Hidden Voices of Ethiopia

A Story and Art experience with Briar and Michael Grimley

Friday late afternoon/evening 12 October, all day Saturday 13 October 2018

Rudolf Steiner Centre, Michael Mount Waldorf School, Johannesburg

We will journey into this mysterious land, rich in soul, active in spirit, this center of our continent. Your hearts will be stirred through folk tales, lore, ancient markings and revelations. Opportunities to engage through painting, drawing, geometry, conversation and the written word will nurture, inspire, and challenge you as you open your souls to be touched by the Spirit of Ethiopia!

We will trace the hidden thread interwoven through the stories of King Solomon the Wise; Makeda, the mysterious Queen of the South, also known as the Queen of Sheba; and the great temple builders, Hiram and Lalibela.

Three separate stories, joined by a hidden thread, will be told by Briar. Through guided conversation and sharing, you will be led to finding your own images from the story, to dwell in, and dream into. You will have the opportunity to creatively work with the wonderful icon-like Ethiopian paintings, and we will explore geometric carvings and paintings found in the Ethiopian sacred buildings and try our hand at drawing some of them.

You are warmly invited to join Briar and Michael to bathe in the mists and legends of the past of this unique country. They have both been upper school teachers in main stream and Waldorf schools and their lives have taught them the value of story and art in awakening feeling for the quality of life of the different peoples and cultures of the world.
